The Call in 2023

As Hong Kong slowly recovers from the social upheaval of 2019 and adjusts to the ongoing sociopolitical changes, our society is faced with many complex and challenging issues.

This year, in our Education & Social Sciences track, we are exploring gender issues in Hong Kong that demands thoughtful responses from the faith community as we reflect on the legal, cultural, pastoral and theological perspectives.

Our economy is struggling with the impact of the pandemic. Beyond survival, what are some unchanging principles that Christian businesses should hold on to in these difficult times? The Faith & Business track will examine the biblical perspectives and practical implications of stewardship in managing people and profits.

On the world stage, international relations continue to be volatile. The need for east-west understanding is more pressing than ever before. Our Faith & Chinese Culture track will have two sessions of Christian-Confucian Dialogue to explore some fundamental issues.

As society and culture continue to change, we are committed to faith, hope and love as we serve our generation with compassion, wisdom, humility and courage with all that we have received from God in our education and professional training.
